Procurement Solutions

Gain control over your procurement processes

Solution overview

The first step in the Purchase to Pay (P2P) process, and one that will form the basis for good governance and process is the procurement of goods. The more efficiently your organization can procure goods means the processes that follow will be easier to manage and be more accurate.

Sending suppliers requisitions or purchase orders with incorrect information means deliveries maybe delayed, payments become more complex and more resources time will be spent on the P2P processes in general.

B2BE's procurement solutions help to streamline the procurement of goods and services to ensure your organization can in fact benefit from an end-to-end P2P solution which may operate in conjunction with your ERP or business system or as a stand alone requisition system.

Key Features

Multi faceted approach to requisitions

B2BE has a range of solutions to help simplify the requisitions process, manage catalogue data and create requisitions. Whether it's a simple form based approach for requisitions or a more sophisticated approach such as being able to punch-out to your suppliers catalogue to generate reverse purchase orders B2BE has a procurement solution to help you on your P2P journey.

Simple requisition requirements to the more complex

The general aim is to ensure requisitions are easy to create, fast to process and most importantly accurate. There's no point having a complex solution with multi approval levels when you don't need a solution like that. B2BE has a range of solutions, depending on how you want to maintain supplier data, how much data you need to maintain and how much effort you want to apply in it's maintenance. Web form requisitions, catalogue based requisitions or punch-out. B2BE's solutions can make the complex simple.

Customizable based on your P2P process requirements

Each procurement solution is highly customizable based on how you wish to implement the solution. Whether it's a simple requisition form approach with approvals or connecting to multiple supplier catalogs via a punch-out approach with reverse purchase orders and a fully integrated EDI solution. All the solutions can be configured so you achieve the approach that best suits your organization and which your suppliers can support.

Catalogue and free-form requisitions

Sometimes you need structured data to create requisitions whereas other times they need to be a bit more free-form, particularly for services. You can combine the both approaches with B2BE's requisitions based on how your organization wishes to create a requisition and for what type of product or service.

Plug and play workflows

All the B2BE requisition approaches mean data from or to a requisition solution can be integrated and work with other workflow solutions to better manage your P2P solution. Whether it's requisition approvals to approving any document, document routing to send requisitions or document corrections to manage issues and content, which can be used by both buyer or seller, there's a range of solutions to better ensure accuracy of data and requisitions.

What you can achieve with B2BE's Procurement solutions
